Democrat Office.

The Democrat Office has been removed and is now in the Red-front Brick building, next to the corner store of Stenhouse, Macaulay & Co., Trade street, opposite the Observer Office and the Merchants & Farmers National Bank.

The Air-Line Railroad.

We publish the Report of J. B. Peck, Esq., in regard to the receipts, expenditures, condition, &c., of the Railroad from Charlotte to Atlanta. We happened to see the Report in the Greenville News and determined to copy it, as it is important to the people of this section. We are surprised that a copy was not furnished the Charlotte papers by Maj. Peck or some one connected with the Road. Our patience is about exhausted with Railroad officials who ignore Charlotte in schedules, management and furnishing information. Our people have two millions of dollars invested in Railroad lines running into Charlotte, and we intend to demand

they have been, OLD FREIGHT LINE RE-ESTABLISHED.-It will be seen by advertisement that the old Freight Line from Charlotte via Charleston, S. C., to all points North, has been re-opened and will dispatch goods as quick and on as fair terms as any other freight line. Mr W. W. Pegram, the local Agent at Charlatte, is well known as a good officer, and, besides. he is a clever and accommodating one.

Some farmers, business men, &c., living on the line of the Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta Railroad, 10, 20 and 30 miles from Charlotte, ask us to suggest to the C., C. & A. Railroad managers the propriety of arranging a schedule so that persons can visit Charlotte in the morning and return home in the evening. We are particular not to censure Railroad men or Mail carriers unless we are certain they do wrong, but we always feel privileged to make suggestions at the request of interested Promptness.

The State Treasurer, Mr Jenkins, informs us that every Sheriff in the State promptly settled his Taxes with the Department within the time prescribed by law. It is probably the first time in the history of North Carolina that every Sheriff "squared the books" without some delay or trouble, and it is a matter worthy of congratulation and feeling of

And while speaking of the Treasury Department, we do not hesitate to say that the Treasurer, David A Jenkins, Esq., has honestly and faithfully discharged his duties, and we are sure he and his clerks (D. W. Bain and A. D. Jenkins) have the respect and confidence of all who have had business transactions at the Department. Although Mr Jenkins was elected as a Republican, it is due him to say that he has endeavored to discharge his duties faithfully. If those who first brought him forward for the position expected to use him for dishonest purposes, they were greatly deceived-he could not be "managed" by bad and designing

Daring Highway Robbery.

On Saturday evening last, about dark, two wagoners, Messrs, R. E. Ford and Robt. Rokett, of Union county, were forcibly robbed on the Lawyer's Road, about half a mile beyond Mr Baxter H. Moore's by five negro men who followed them from the city. bon on Sunday morning.

Our city authorities have been watching for the villains, but so far have failed to make any arrest

We have not time to comment on such daring rascality. There are too many idle, bad people loating about the city, and unless more speedy punshment is meted out to robbers and other lawbreakers, it will soon be dangerous for our citizens to walk about in the suburbs after night.

Good Example.-Ben Howie is a colored man who lives near Coburn's Store, Union county, and is a regular reader of the Democrat. He renewed his subscription last week and requested us to say that himself and children, with two Steers, made off six acres 4,888 pounds seed cotton, using 3 sacks of Guano purchased from Burroughs & Springs. He also made 200 bushels corn, 35 bushels wheat, 40 bushels potatoes, 42 gallons molasses, and a good supply of all sorts of vegetables. If all colored there would be less talk about "hard times."

People who allow hogs, cows, or any sort of stock, to run at large in the city, not only forfeit their property but are subject to fine.

The Bank of North Carolina.

The Raleigh News says that it does not know whether we meant the "Bank of North Carolina" or the "Bank of the State of North Carolina" in our inquiries about the Bank assets. We said the "Bank of North Carolina" and that is the Bank we referred to. The old Bank of the State of North Carolina "shut up shop" in 1858 or 1859, and we presume its affairs have been nearly settled up. But the Bank of North Carolina, at the close of the war, had about four hundred thousand dollars in specie, besides several valuable buildings and other assets-how has it all been disposed of or how much of it remains. That is what we demand to know from the Officers and Directors, and we want an itemized statement. Will the Raleigh News give it or get it from the officers? The Stockholders are certainly entitled to a concise and official statement, and as one of the Stockholders we intend to call for it until it is made.

Maj. Dowd's Address.

The Address of Maj. Dowd, last week, before the Mecklenburg Historical Society was quite interesting to the members present, and we are pleased to see it published in the Observer. We will try and make space for it in the Democrat next week.

The best feature of the Address is the calling of attention to the fact that North Carolinians have too much and too long neglected their great men especially the dead. While we contribute to build monuments to the warriors and statesmen of other that their interests be respected more hereafter than States, and join in sounding their praise, we utterly ignore the hundreds of great and gallant North Carolinians who sleep in heglected and unknown graves. That should not be so, and we hope the operations of the Mecklenburg Society will arouse the people of the State to exercise a little State pride and do their duty to those who have honored the land of their birth.

Death of Hon. Burton Craige.

The Hon. Burton Craige died at the residence of Mr A. B. Young (his son-in-law) in Concord on the 30th ult. Mr Craige occupied many responsible and honorable positions in this State, and always discharged his duties with the strictest fidelity and firmness. He was about 65 years old.

We find in three or four of our exchanges the following sketch of Mr Craige's life, which we copy

Mr Craige was born in the county of Rowan on the 13th of March, 1311, and appears conspicuously in public life to the close of the late war which crushed the spirits and broke the fortunes of the bravest and strongest. He graduated at Chapel Hill in 1829. In 1832 he was a member from the town of Salisbury to the House of Commons, and in 1834 from the county of Rowan. He commenced life as both a lawyer and an editor (editing people and white people worked like Ben Howie for some time a paper, probably the Catawba Journal) and figured prominently and triumphantly in the turbulent times of nullification, being a strong and enthusiastic advocate of Southern and State's rights. In 1836, he was married to Elizabeth, a daughter of Col. James Erwin of Burke county. In 1843 he was the Democratic candidate for Congress, but was defeated by the Hon. D. M. Barringer. He was elected, however, a few years afterwards and represented his constituents in the National House of Representatives for three consecutive terms, and was a member when North Carolina seceded. He promptly resigned his seat, and zealously cast his lot with his native State. He was a delegate to the Secession Convention and was the author and introducer of the Ordinance of Secession, which dissolved the Union between North Carolina and the other States. It was offered as an Amendment to an ordinance introduced by Mr Badger declaring the separation of North Carolina from the United States. We well remember the able debate and the excitement attending it, and the still wilder excitement which followed the adoption of Mr Craige's ordinance by a vote of seventy-two to forty. The city of Raleigh even then was filled with volunteers awaiting equipment, and the military parade and salute which followed the action of the Convention has never been equaled in this State.

which his great ability and vast experience would have been most valuable, but all appeals were in line to Clear Creek Township line Comvain. He had no disposition to don again the armour for political strife, and he passed away, firm to the last in his resolution, but not less endeared on this account to the people of the State.

We learn that an invitation has been tendered Rev. F. H. Ivey of Lexington, Ga, to become Mr Durham's successor here, and that in all probability he will accept. Mr Ivey is said to be a most gifted Divine.—Goldsboro Messenger.

There is no better man in this country than Rev. F. H. Ivey. Local Items.

REPREHENSIBLE.—The firing of pistol shots at escaping prisoners, by officers or others, in our public streets, is very wrong and should not be tolerated or permitted. If the prisoner was guilty of rape or murder there might be a little excuse for firing at him in crowded thoroughfares, but when he is only suspected or is guilty of stealing a chicken, or a hog, or a pair of shoes, the officer who fires at him should be punished for it. The habit of using pistols on all occasions must be stopped, and we hope the next Legislature will pass a law imposing heavy penalties on those who carry concealed pistols

We have the pleasure to state that our dog "Bull," 51/2 years old, bled one of the suspicious characters in the back yard of our dwelling last week. "Bull" will not bite a respectable, honest, working-man, but idlers and suspicious persons had better beware how they go into a back yard where he is. Strangers would do well to ask permission to go into back yards of dwellings before they enter.

PLEASANT ENTERTAINMENT.—The entertainment on New Year's Eve, given by the German Singing Club of this city, at their Hall, was indeed a pleasant affair. There were three or four invited guests present, among them Col. Wm. Johnston, the Mayor of the city, who, by request of the ladies, presented the Society with a handsome Piano Cover in a few appropriate remarks, and was responded to by Mr Hennant on behalf of the Club. Refreshments were properly served and all present enjoyed them-

We know it is a superior Plow to any used in the country, and to satisfy the farmer that such is the case, we propose to test it at any time against any other plow. We have had several trials, and below you will find cartificates from farmers who have seen it used. If they do not give satisfaction after two days trial in the field, they can be returned and money refunded.
